CHAMPAIGN COUNTY, OHIO - RECORDS OF BIRTH

In theory, one is led to believe that birth records of Ohio are stored in the office of the Probate Court or the County Board of Health Office. Under the Ohio Constitution the probate judge was ordered to maintain a permanent record of births from 1867 to 1908.

Records retained by the Probate Court were to contain births arranged chronologically. Each record was to contain the child's full name; date of birth; place of birth (such as city, township and county); sex; legitimacy; race; parents and their residence and the name of the certifying physician. The book of records may be indexed in the front by the name of the child, but a separate, comprehensive index is to be available also. This record is to be held by permanent retention.

In 1909 the County Board of Health was established in Ohio counties and since that time births have been recorded and maintained by this office rather than the Probate Court. Items maintained within this office often are called the "short form." "The long form" of a birth certificate is maintained by the Department of Health, Columbus, Ohio. Therefore, to obtain a copy of a birth or death certificate one needs to apply to the state office for any certificate that would have been established since 1909.

Ideally, one needs only to ask for a record for anyone born after 1867 and it can be produced. However, a record is often unattainable. At the time of most births generally there was not an attending physician, the person who would have been responsible to see that the events were filed in the proper office in the courthouse. Midwives did not submit the births of infants for county records.

The birth records entered for file in the Probate Court were submitted by the attending physician, however, as he appeared to only get the to county seat periodically, the records were entered at one time in a group. Thus, the period that the births were entered would cover a period of several months, if not a couple of years.

By today's standards the writing in the ledgers are atrocious. Without standardized spelling the writer was at liberty to enter whatever letters satisfied the phonics of the surname.

Many mistakes can be found in the work, as the names of the fathers and mother are inaccurate. The fact found most interesting by the author is that many of the mother's names were missing, however, the father's name was listed. Since the birth occurred we know that the mother was present. Perchance the father arranged payment for the physician and that is why his name was recorded.

As the birth records were not entered into the ledgers in the order of individual dates of birth the author has re-arranged entries for this work in chronological order and retained as much of the recorded spelling as possible.

Mrs. Pat Stickley researched and copied the original birth records for this work. She is the research correspondent for The Champaign County Genealogical Society, a Chapter of the Ohio Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 608, Urbana, Ohio 43078-0680.
